DATA PROTECTION NOTICE AND PRIVACY STATEMENT

AXA considers that protecting personal information is very important and we recognise that you have an interest in how we collect, use and share such information. We invite you to review this Data Protection Statement, which outlines how we use and protect that information.

Use of information

1. This notice will explain how AXA will use information provided by yourself and third parties. References to "AXA" means AXA (Holdings) Ireland Limited, its subsidiaries including AXA Insurance Limited and any associated companies from time to time.

The information that you provide to AXA will be held on a computer, computer database, e-mail, imaged documents, files, and letter and/or in any other way. AXA will use the information to (i) administer and process any products/services you have purchased from us, (ii) administer any future agreements we may have with you, (iii) manage any claim notified by you or by a third party and (iv) for client services, research and statistical analyses.

2. When considering a proposal or administering your insurance contract(s), handling claims, or making decisions regarding deferred payment arrangements, including whether to continue or to extend an existing deferred payment arrangement, AXA may carry out searches (for the purpose of verifying your identity) and/or a credit search with one or more licensed credit reference agencies.

3. For underwriting and claims purposes, we may request details about the health, the condition, the commission or alleged commission of any offence and conviction about you. In these applications, you explicitly consent to the processing of your details for these purposes.

Rights of Customers

4. You have the right of access to the personal data held about you by AXA by sending a written request to the Data Protection Unit, AXA Insurance Limited, Wolfe Tone House, Wolfe Tone Street, Dublin 1, and on payment of a fee of €6.35. You also have the right to require AXA to correct any inaccuracies in the information we hold about you.

Sharing of information

5. We shall not disclose personal information without the consent of the individual to which it relates except in limited circumstances as permitted or required by law. We may share personal information including sensitive personal information with agents or service providers or Private investigators in connection with providing, administering and servicing the products you have purchased from us or in the course of handling claims.

Where we choose to have certain services provided by third parties, we do so in accordance with the applicable law and take reasonable precautions regarding the practices employed by the service provider to protect personal information.

What is Insurance-Link?

6. The Insurance-Link database has been created by the Irish Insurance Federation and the self-insured claims task force to assist their members in the detection and defence of exaggerated claims which may result in prosecutions for fraud. It contains details of claims made by individuals against insurance policy-holders or directly against self-insured members of the service. It is run by Risk Intelligence Ireland Limited, Unit 15 Trinity Technology and Enterprise Campus, Pearse Street, Dublin 2.

How does AXA use the Insurance-Link database?

7. Where you get a quotation or take out a motor or property insurance policy with us, we will check the details you have supplied with the Insurance-Link database. Where you make a claim, we will pass details to the Insurance-Link database. This information is available to other insurance companies through the Insurance-Link database. We will check the Insurance-Link database for information on any previous claims against us or any previous insurance companies.
